

Why should I book a course thru SAT language courses?

This is one of the key issues that students have when booking a language courses abroad. Here are some of the reasons why the answer is YES you should book thru SAT language consultants.

- Objective advice

SAT works with a wide number of providers abroad and receive a commission for each course we book. This allows us to provide you with an objective view of which city you should study in and in which school specifically meets your needs. We have been coordinating courses abroad since 1988. SAT has a wealth of information about each provider & the courses they offer and can therefore help you decide the best option for you.

- Support in case of emergency

If you encounter any problems before, during or even after your courses, SAT language courses can negotiate with the provider in order to help solve the problem. The providers rely on us to send them students; we as an agency have more influence over them than a single complaint from one student. Our clients' happiness is our top priority: if we feel that too many of our clients criticize a particular school, we will not hesitate to stop working with that school- we have done so in the past.

- Quicker response times

If you book directly with SAT language courses, response times to your queries will be faster, because as agents we often double check and confirm with the schools themselves before responding to our clients.

- Updated information

SAT Language courses as official agents will probably have more up-to-date information about the provider, accommodations and the courses. We can also give you information if you have any specific queries. Information you find on line is not always updated daily and asking us will provide you with the same responses but quicker.

- Security and Payment options

SAT language consultants can work with you regarding payment. You can arrange to make payments of pay all at least 3 weeks before you go. If you book thru the school, you often have to leave a down payment upon reserving your course. If you need the bill to be sent to your company, we can arrange that too.
